

VACC Online Environmental Compliance Course

Do you know your environmental compliance obligations?
No? Then this could be costly for the environment and your business!

VACC Skills Development Centre introduces a new course to help save your business money and save the environment at the same time. You may even make money for your business!

The VACC Online Environment Compliance Course

- Is specific to the Automotive Industry
- Identifies environmental concerns in Automotive businesses and
- Teaches you best practice methods for addressing these environmental concerns

This course is delivered completely online in a fun and interactive way, complete with case studies and important links and resources for your ongoing compliance needs.

After completing the course you will possess the skills to develop an Environment Management Plan for your business. The VACC Environment Advisor will consult on its implementation. You will also be able to download a handbook for future reference.

This course covers all the important issues such as

- EPA legal compliance
- Waste management
- Resource efficiency
- Record keeping
- Storage practices
- Stormwater protection
- Spill management
- Air pollution

You should do this course because

- Any change, whether big or small, will make a difference to your business
- Environmental compliance can save you money
- Implementing good environmental management practices will create a safer and cleaner work environment
- Completing this course and implementing suggested practices will reduce your environmental liabilities and risks in the future
- It can be used toward the Green Stamp Plus Environmental Accreditation Program
